THE BEST NEWS YET.

A Tuesday's special from Frankfort says:

"The railroads of this State have been routed by the State Board of Valuation and Assessment in their legal struggle before Judge Cochran to annul the assessments made on their franchises in 1911."

"At the hearing of the L. & N. Railroad Company before Judge Cochran this afternoon he stated he would write his opinion in that case soon and he will insist that the L. & N. Railroad pay many thousands of dollars more into the treasury of this State. He said he thought $70,000,000 would not be an excessive value to put on the tangible property of the road and that $20,000,000 would not be excessive as an intangible assessment."

"Such an assessment will bring the value of the property up to $90,000,000, but for 1911 the assessment must be equalized at eighty per cent. of the value, because the board has assessed the banks at eighty per cent of their value. The State was hardly expecting such a splendid victory and while the verbal statements of Judge Cochran are not his final conclusions, they indicate he has made up his mind to show the board what a fair assessment is and they will follow it in the future."

"Col. Henry L. Stone, attorney for the Louisville & Nashville Company insisted that Judge Cochran only consider the allegations in the railroad petition on this hearing for a preliminary injunction."

"What about the affidavit of Auditor Bosworth," said Judge Cochran, "in which he has the affidavit of President Milton H. Smith on the L. & N. in the rate case tried before me in which Mr. Smith swore that it would take $70,000,000 to reproduce the railroads in this State? That was in 1905, and since then there has been, according to your own figures, $18,000,000 put in the road for depreciation."

"That was for a new railroad," responded Mr. Stone.

"Yes," replied Judge Cochran, "I know that, but I think your company with its valuable improvements and 250 additional miles of track and double track, is worth more now than then. This is exactly the same question that you had before me ten years ago, when the franchise of the company was assessed at $10,000,000. Since then the value of the company's property, according to your own figures, has been increased $100,000,000, and yet your franchise assessment is only increased $1,000,000; there must be something produced to show me that I am wrong in my conclusions."

Col Stone suggested that the Railroad Commission had only assessed the tangible value of the property at $20,000,000.

"Well, don't make any difference," said Judge Cochran, "I think it is worth very considerable more than $20,000,000."

This statement sustains the position taken by Lawrence Finn, Chairman of the State Railroad

Double Killing in Clark.

While returning from church at Corinth, Clark county, Ellis Brandenburg and wife met Ben White and Charles Holland, cousins, who had attended services at Elbethel. Brandenburg took offense, it is said, because the men going in the opposite direction failed, he thought, to give enough of the road. Holland's hat blew off, when he alighted from the buggy and started back to get it. Brandenburg evidently thought Holland was coming for him, and thus opened fire and shot Ben White in the lower regions of the stomach. Holland and White returned the fire, and shot Brandenburg in the head and lungs when he died instantly. White was hurried to a hospital at Lexington where he was operated on, but died Monday after the operation.

Died While on Visit.

Mrs. Belle Lowe, of this city, died at Middletown, Ohio, Monday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Bowman, whom she was visiting at the time. The remains were brought back Tuesday and taken to Stanton Wednesday for burial. Mrs. Lowe was the mother of Mrs. P. B. Kirk of this city, and other children, all grown, living at Sardis, Miss., and Middletown, Ohio.

Our machine shops have been overtaxed for several days putting in repair broken down machinery used in the construction of the new road from Winchester to Irvine. Work on the road near this city is almost at a standstill waiting for these repairs.

Mountain capitalists have taken an option on a building in Winchester, and will probably organize a bank there of sufficient capital to handle the business of all the mountain people.

Commission and is a shot at W. F. Clair, of Lexington and Green Gullet, of Winchester, who assessed the property at $29,000,000 despite the statement of President Smith that it would require $70,000,000 to reproduce the railroad.

Judge Cochran does not take the same view of the affidavit of President Smith as the majority of the Railroad Commission, nor Attorney Joubert, of the L. & N. Railroad Company that Smith was only talking of a fairy railroad.

On a motion of Attorney General Garnett, time was given the C. & O. R. R. and the C. N. O. and T. P. R. R. and the board to try to get a compromise. Among those present today was Justus Goebel, of Covington, who is the man that furnished the information to the board to make the assessment.

Three cheers for Goebel, McCreary and Judge Cochran, who are more than all others, responsible for the bringing of the railroads of Kentucky to a point nearer justice so far as paying tax is concerned. May each of them be ever kept in the offices where they can continue to be of the greatest value to our State and Nation. Mr. Goebel not being in office, we suggest the title of Governor as best suiting him.

All in Favor of State Aid.

Louisville Commercial Club, 25th September 1913.

Editor Times, Clay City, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed a copy of an article that appeared in the Louisville Times, September 9, showing that the entire delegation from Jefferson County to the next General Assembly will be unanimously and unqualifiedly in favor of State Aid for good roads and have voluntarily pledged themselves to this end.

The Louisville Commercial Club is greatly pleased at this stand taken by these candidates and believes the entire State will feel likewise. It is our hope that every editor throughout Kentucky will endeavor to secure from all candidates in his section a promise to support this principle of State Aid that means so much for the financial and social betterment of our State.

Will you not take up this important question at once with your candidates and endeavor to get a declaration from them on this issue that may be given to the people through the columns of your valuable paper?

Feeling sure you will welcome this opportunity of lending a helping hand in a movement that promises to be of such lasting benefit to this and future generations, I am

Yours very truly,
W. E. Morrow,
Secretary.

Finally Talks.

D. B. Hampton the wealthy Winchester banker who was fined $30 daily and remanded to jail for failure to disclose the names of persons to whom he had furnished money in the August primary, has been set free. Mr. Hampton refused to do this for the protection of the ones whom he had furnished money, not himself. These men realizing Mr. Hampton's embarrassed situation, agreed that he might give them away rather than he be compelled to stay in jail indefinitely. Mr. Hampton then gave the grand jury their names, whereupon they were indicted and fined $50.00 each, and Mr. Hampton paid their fines. Mr. Hampton was firm in his refusal to dishonorably betray any confidence reposed in him, and Judge Benton was as equally firm in his determination to find out the guilty bribe takers. The many friends of both gentlemen will be pleased to learn that the unfortunate affair has been settled.

Dr. Haydon, veterinary, of Mt. Sterling, will be in this city Saturday, Oct. 4th, and a few days following, for the treatment of all troubles and diseases of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. He will be glad to consult anyone having stock that needs treatment. He will be located at Eaton's livery stable.

The Teachers' Association meeting in this city Saturday was quite a success. We are glad to have them with us, and hope they will be with us again before the school year closes.

STANTON NEWS.

Mr. Marion Strange has been visiting in Winchester this week.

Mr. Jas. Ewen visited his brother Clark county a few days ago.

Miss Anna Hardwick spent Sunday in Lexington among kin folks.

Rev. J. C. Hanley is taking in the Perry Centennial at Louisville this week.

Wilder Skidmore and his son, Henry, were in town visiting at Burnam Skidmore.

Judge Derickson and family have moved into the old Court House the past week.

Mr. Sant Hardwick is fixing up his home, putting on a new shingle roof and making other repairs.

Mrs. Mollie Crawford, of Jackson, returned home Tuesday after several days visit to the home folks.

Mrs. Margaret Vance is visiting her relatives in Whitley county for about a month. She has the two children with her.

Mrs. W. M. Hughes and three children, and her mother from High Bridge, Ky., were visiting the family of Mr. James Welch this past week.

Miss Kennady, of Pennsylvania, and who has been connected with Huston Academy in Breathitt county, visited with Miss Frances Kable one day this week.

Mrs. Bettie Hardwick returned from the bedside of her sister in Estill county last Friday. She is expecting every day to get a message telling of her death, so low is her sister.

Rev. Sherman Robbins, who has been attending camp meeting in Rowan county for the last two weeks, returned home Tuesday after a very pleasant time at the meeting.

Koss Hall had a very serious accident a few days ago. He was running after some hogs, and forgot about a barb wire stretched across a certain place, and ran into it, cutting a deep gash over his eye. It was thought at first the eye was injured, but it is coming out all right.

We are at a loss to know whether it was Prof. E. W. Welch or ourselves that were serenaded the other night. Anyway we got the benefit of the serenading and thoroughly enjoyed it. We are glad to see the boys come around and make the evening merry with songs and laughter, and college hurrahs. Brings back the old days when we were in college and did such things. Come again boys, you're always welcome.

The writer wishes to assure the Winchester Democrat and the host of friends of J. W. Chambers of Winchester that he had no thought of insinuating against his Alabama land. Rather was he trying to speak a good word for him. From the last part of the item about Mr. Chambers, the writer now readily sees how one could draw such a conclusion. But he did not mean it that way. He was unfortunate in wording the item wrong when he meant to boost Mr. Chambers. The writer's thought was that everybody should look at land before buying. It is good business to do that always. But we do know that there is some very rich and valuable land in Alabama. The time is soon coming when the southland is going to be one of the greatest sections of our country. It is progressing by leaps and bounds and the whole country is investing her millions to make it a great producing market.

Some of the housewives of Stanton wish that some one would raise a few tomatoes that are not contracted at the canning factory. They have tried their best to get hold of some tomatoes, but could not do so. The writer begged and pleaded and coaxed with every passing wagon for a few tomatoes, but all turned a deaf ear because they were contracted for. Finally one man came along whose heart was so big and tender and overflowing for suffering humanity, that he doesn't have the courage of a hard hearted man to say no. He said he knew he was doing wrong but he couldn't harden his heart when we were pleading so piteously. And we knew we were doing wrong in beseeching so earnestly, but we couldn't bear the thought of going through the winter without some cans filled with the tempting fruit. We all humbly ask our most deserving and enterprising citizen and owner of the canning factory, Mr. Fuller to forgive us for these misdeeds and not to hold it against the great hearted man who supplied the tomatoes.

The past Sunday was a rally day long to be remembered. While the Presbyterian Sunday school was trying to rally the fathers and mothers and children to the Sunday school, the devil at the same time was rallying his forces around his old stamping ground, the depot. Some people say that there is a hell on earth and we are inclined to believe it from what has been told about the drinking, the awful profanity, the fighting and the debauching revelry that took place this past Sunday around the depot and other parts of town. Persons who had to pass the depot on their way to Sunday school and church, say that it was something awful and that they had to listen to the most vile oaths and witness a drunken fight. As Circuit Court will soon meet, this affair of Sunday will be aired out. It is about time that such disgraceful scenes in Stanton be stopped, and the good people of the town ought to look after that. There has been a great deal of talk since this disgrace of Sunday of calling the citizens of Stanton together at the Court House and forming a law and order league, and then when such things arise, let all parties concerned be taken up. We can have just the kind of town we want. It rests with the citizens of the town. If you want these drunken fights and terrible profanity seen and heard over the town, then you can have it. But if you want law and order and a quiet town, then you can have that also. It rests with you. And which do you want. For my part I am for a quiet town. My children and your children have to pass this depot every day to school, and we ought to see that they do not have to hear and witness so much profanity and drunkenness as they have in the last six months. We also feel that if the Railroad Company was notified of this past Sunday's affray, they would gladly co-operate with us in seeing that persons could come to the depot and wait for a train in decent environments. The writer hates to do all the kicking about our town. He feels that other citizens should also demand better conditions and better surroundings for the sake of their boys and girls. Now, fellow citizens, will you not join in this movement to clean up our town and keep it quiet and orderly. We can do it if we want to. One man can not do it all alone, but we must all work together. It is sad to know that out of a town of four hundred people, that there were eighteen drunken men on our streets Sunday, and not a saloon in town either. There is work for us to do, and let us be up and doing.

A letter which we publish this week from the Louisville Commercial Club informs us that Jefferson county will send a solid delegation to Frankfort this winter favoring State aid for roads. Louisville has always favored State aid, notwithstanding the fact that such a law means that the city will pay for roads in the State more than one hundred thousand dollars per year, and draw out of this fund nothing. Louisville saved the Constitutional amendment. Not only is Louisville for State aid, but so is Lexington, Covington, Newport, Paducah, and every other city of importance in the State. The trouble lies with a few bigoted counties who scornfully look upon the poor counties of the State like Powell and say, build your own roads. These counties imagine they will have to build them for us, but let's see.

The proposition is to levy a State tax of 5 cents and allot each county ten thousand dollars a year. We then will take our neighbor, Clark county, for an example. There are twelve millions in taxable property in Clark county. Their road tax would be $6,000 per year and they would get all of this back and $4,000 more to build roads. Would not this law be to their advantage? Strange, however, there is a strong sentiment in Clark against State aid. Why? They can't tell you. Neither can we.

There is no reflection on Clark county in this article, as it is known that Powell is closer related to Clark than any other county in the state. Our fathers, our brothers and our sisters have located there and now live there. They want to do for us all they can, surely. Then they will see to it that their Representative and Senator pledge their support to the State Aid bill. We use Clark as an example because it is the wealthiest county outside of the counties with cities of ten thousand or more. If the law benefits Clark county as it does, it will then benefit every other county in the State that has heretofore been against such a law. The ones benefited have heretofore prevented the passage of such a law, but it is hoped that they have their eyes open now and will help carry the bill that they so badly need as well as such counties as Powell.

The Estill Tribune of last week in reply to our propositions relative to home improvements and the building of a turnpike from Clay City to Irvine brought about by a clipping published in the Times two weeks ago says:

"The editor of the Clay City Times, by way of getting back at a little ironical comment we offered on his protest against the high-handed methods employed by the L. & N. Railroad in dealing with the people of this section, offers some valuable and timely suggestions on road improvement."

The Tribune then quotes our article, and continues:

"Bro. Burgher's offer is more than fair. Other farm owners along this road should acquire some of this spirit. While we would not be directly benefitted very much by the building of a turnpike between the two towns, we are heartily in favor of the enterprise and will meet Brother Burgher as far down the road as we can while walking is good."

Some people have gained the idea that the Times is fighting all the corporations and every one of their employees, but such is not the case.

The Times is opposing only monopolistic corporations, but it does oppose these in every instance. Local corporations have our unqualified support in every instance, because they have always proven themselves to be as one of our people. They lend aid always to any worthy cause. They give to our churches, to our bridges, to our roads and to every other deserving enterprise in the community. They are managed by our home people who are leading and most worthy citizens of our county. Yes, we are proud of our local corporations and have never failed to lend them assistance because they are always ready to do the same to us, and generally are more liberal than our home people are.

About two thousand moral citizen voters of Montgomery county went to the polls last spring and voted that county dry by a majority exceeding 900 votes, and last week one man, Allie Young, holding the honorable and exalted position of Circuit Judge, overruled the wishes of this large and respectable majority by annulling this election, and allowing the Montgomery county capital to remain with saloons. Wouldn't the recall of Judges and some of his decisions come in mighty handy just now? The Times would like to see it operate a little in this case for experiment anyway.

All honor to Judge A. M. J. Cochran who says the railroads of this State must pay more tax before he can give them any further hearing in regard to escaping their just share of taxation. He wants to ascertain the real value of the roads before he makes a final decision. This is one Federal Judge that is giving an ear to the cries of the people instead of to the tax dodging corporations.

Some folks seem to feel as if they had given ten dollars to charity every time they say someone deserves sympathy.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars, free.

Tiring of Adopted Sons.

The Winchester Democrat is getting tired of the bad men brought into Clark county by the building of the L. & N. railroad through it, and delivers itself as follows:

"The whole world is hereby notified that Clark county is not responsible for the lawlessness that has existed here for the past year and a half, due chiefly to the strange characters coming here with railroad constabulary gangs. The Sunday carousal, which ended in the killing of perhaps two men and wounding of a woman, was participated in by people who are not natives of this county. We wash our hands of the whole matter and pray that the time will shortly come when the lawless who move into our midst will decide to return to their own country, when they seek the life blood of their fellowman. We're not responsible."

REST!

If the doctor says "Tuberculosis," follow exactly his orders in regard to ventilation, food, exercise and rest. He knows better than you do. This is especially true in regard to the rest and exercise, which have to be carefully gauged for each patient and each stage of the disease. Until the disease is checked and marked improvement in general condition and increased weight are noticed, almost absolute rest is essential. The disease is one that destroys the tissues of the body and uses up its energy rapidly. If you persist in using up your energy by work and exercise, the body has nothing left to fight with. Beware what the family medical books prescribe in the way of exercise for consumptives. No one prescription will answer for all cases, and this may be the one where their general prescription will send you to the grave-yard. If your responsibilities seem to make absolute rest for two or three or four months impossible, just remember that the progress of the disease will soon force you to it without the hope of recovery.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

DISEASE IS PREVENTABLE

OUT OF EVERY HUNDRED DEATHS IN KENTUCKY THIRTY-NINE ARE PREVENTABLE.

Most Diseases in Kentucky Caused by Consumption, Pneumonia, Typhoid Fever, Diphtheria, Measles, Smallpox or Gonorrhoea.

Lexington, Ky.—(Special).—Out of every hundred deaths in the state of Kentucky thirty-nine are preventable, says the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission. And what is a preventable disease? It is one which is directly or indirectly spread from one person suffering with it to others. We know what most of these diseases in Kentucky are, viz., consumption, pneumonia, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, malaria, whooping-cough, measles, smallpox, cerebro-spinal meningitis, syphilis, and gonorrhoea. Each of these diseases is caused by the growth in the body of a tiny organism, commonly called a germ. These germs can not be seen by the naked eye, but under the microscope the shapes, characteristics and habits of most of them have been studied, so that they are now as well known to physicians as are those of human beings or domestic animals. The eggs of hookworms are also transmitted from person to person, but in this case the full-grown organism can plainly be seen by the naked eye. Since we know how these diseases are transmitted, it is perfectly possible, when people aid the doctors, to prevent their spread.

FRESH AIR!

It's a lucky thing that God made so much fresh air; it does more for us than we ever imagine. Few things have such a destructive effect on most disease germs, after they leave the body, as a slow, steady draft of fresh air. For instance, the germs of consumption will be killed by it in less than twenty-four hours. Considering the number of people moving about and spreading the germs of consumption, it is lucky for us all that the fresh air keeps so steadily and effectively at work. Fresh air is also, by long odds, the most important factor in the cure of consumption. The steady breathing of fresh air twenty-four hours a day, regardless of the weather, will do more to produce a cure than any other single thing. The constant supply of fresh air, purging the body of impurities, keeps the machinery of the body literally in "good fighting trim," and, at the same time, slowly and surely kills the germs as cast off.

DIAGNOSIS!

If you suspect that you have consumption go at once to your physician to be diagnosed. Don't delay! Every day lost decreases the chance of cure. And go to the best physician. Even the best physicians can not immediately distinguish tuberculosis in its first stages from other troubles. Expect your physician to take a sample of your spit, which can be examined free of charge in the laboratory of the State Board of Health. If germs of tuberculosis are found, that is absolute proof that the disease is present even though you can see no outward signs of its inroads. If they are not found, you may nevertheless have tuberculosis; in the early stages of the disease more often than not the germs will not be found in the sputum. Expect your physician also to make a careful physical examination of the trunk of your body from the waist line to the neck. It will take him a full half hour to do it thoroughly and, I he requests it, the patient must be stripped to the waist line.
